

MASONS TO CONFER PRIESTHOOD ORDER

Grand Annual Convocation of Grand Royal Arch Chapter Meets Here This Week.

DINNER BY LOCAL CHAPTER

Conclave of Grand Commandery, Knights Templar, to Be Held After Closing of Convocation.

The 166th grand annual convocation of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Masons in Virginia will convene in the tabernacle in the Masonic Temple at 8 o'clock Tuesday night, with the following officers present:

M. E. Sol Cutchins, grand high priest.
R. E. J. W. C. Bryant, grand king.
R. E. Isaac H. Adams, Jr., grand scribe.
M. E. George W. Poe, grand treasurer.
R. E. James B. Blanks, grand secretary.
E. J. W. S. Butt, grand captain of host.
E. J. John R. Charleton, grand principal sojourner.
E. J. E. W. Timberman, grand royal arch captain.
E. J. James Bowman, grand master, third year.
E. J. James H. Price, grand master, second year.
E. J. John T. Cochran, grand master, first year.
Comp. F. T. McFadden, grand chaplain.
Comp. Oscar J. Adams, grand marshal.

Comp. James A. Pamplin, grand tiler.
The first business of the opening session will be the address of the most excellent high priest, which will be followed by the reports of officers and committees, all of which will be considered by the grand committee of the whole at 10 o'clock the following morning, and reported to the second day's session at 8 o'clock that night.
At the last grand annual convocation the resolutions of George W. Wright were recommended to the committee on work, with instruction to report the minor differences between the Blue Lodge and chapter work in the ritual at this convocation.

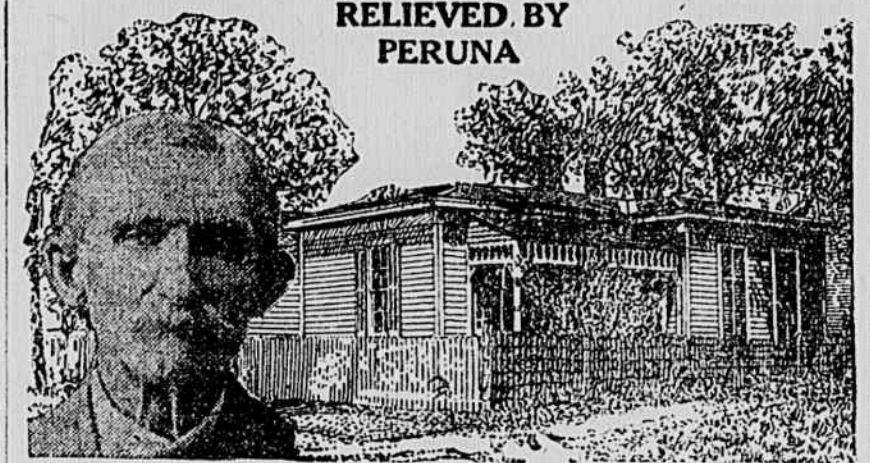

Confer Holy Orders.
The Grand Council of Anointed High Priests will convene at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to confer the Holy Order of High Priesthood on such companions as may be entitled to the order, and for the annual election of officers, under the direction of ex-President William J. Hubbard.

The grand committee on work will convene two days prior to this convocation, and will exemplify all the degrees at the Masonic Temple tomorrow night and Tuesday morning and afternoon.

The Washington Royal Arch Chapter, No. 5, of this city, will entertain the officers and members of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Virginia at a

SUFFERED TWELVE YEARS CATARRH OF STOMACH

RELIEVED BY PERUNA

W. H. Shanks' Scottsburg, Ind., Home.

Most of our testimonials are old acquaintances. That is to say, we have been in correspondence with them ten or fifteen years.

Mr. Shanks, however, is a new comer. He is an old friend of Peruna, but he never called our attention to the fact until very lately. We welcome him to the host of users and believers in Peruna. His appearance speaks for itself, and his letter reads:

"It affords me great pleasure to inform you of the good results I have derived from the use of your excellent remedy, Peruna. I had catarrh of the stomach and bowels for twelve years and tried many remedies with only temporary relief. I was induced to try Peruna, and after taking six bottles I was completely relieved. I had taken almost three bottles before I could see that I was receiving any benefit, but when I had taken the six bottles I was completely relieved, and I feel very grateful to Peruna, and I have recommended it to quite a number of my friends. I still take a bottle every spring. My wife has used it with good results. You can use this or any part of it if you see fit."

dinner in the Masonic Temple at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday, for which handsome engraved invitations have been issued.

Mr. Poe to Extend Welcome.
The welcome will be extended by George W. Poe, grand treasurer, a member of Washington Chapter and a past grand high priest, and will be responded to by James E. Alexander, of Alexandria, assistant grand lecturer and a past grand high priest.

Following the closing of the Grand Chapter the ninety-first Grand Annual Convocation of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Virginia will be held in the Masonic Temple on

IN ONE MINUTE! CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN—COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

Stops Nasty Discharge, Cleans Stuffed Head, Heals Inflamed Air Passages and You Breathe Freely.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle, anyway, just to try it. Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By rubbing the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake to-night struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.—Advertisement.

Puts Thrift Into Spendthrifts--

We are strongly tempted to praise the savings account as the panacea for human failings—we have seen so many cases in which it worked wonders.

We have seen the spender transformed into a careful business man, laying aside a certain share of his earnings. We have seen small deposits pile up into big worth-while sums.

TAKE STOCK OF YOURSELF. HOW DO YOU SIZE UP? ARE YOU BETTER OFF TO-DAY THAN A YEAR AGO?

If you want to start, you could find no better bank than this one. We welcome small deposits—and allow 3 per cent interest, compounded semi-annually, on savings.

E. Sir James A. Pamplin, grand captain of guard.

To Collate All Laws.

Under a resolution adopted at the last grand annual convocation the State was divided into four districts for inspection by the four inspectors appointed by the grand commander, and under another resolution this Grand Commandery will hold a morning session and refer all business to the committees for consideration during the afternoon, and for report to an evening session of the same day.

A committee consisting of James B. Blanks, John E. Townes and Wallace B. Blanks, to collate and digest the existing laws of the Grand Commandery of Virginia, will report the same to this grand convocation.

At 7 o'clock on Thursday night the officers and members of the Richmond Commandery, No. 2, and the Commandery of St. Andrew, No. 13, will assemble at their armory in the temple to act as escort to the grand commander and the officers of the Grand Commandery of Virginia from the Jefferson Hotel to the Masonic Temple, accompanied by such members of the Grand Commandery as may be present.

The line of march will be down Franklin to Fifth, Fifth to Grace, Grace to Adams, thence to the temple, for the evening session of that body.

'HOW TO CATCH AND KEEP A HUSBAND'

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.)

Paris, October 25.—"How to catch a husband and to keep him" is part of the education offered by a new high school for girls which attracts the attention of mothers.

It is all very simple—to catch the husband, learn to dance well; to keep him, learn to cook well.

The school is called the Lyceum Jules Ferry, after the statesman who directed the education of France.

It is in Montmartre, a neighborhood where dancing has been much cultivated and cooking scarcely at all. But now mothers will boast that their daughters have obtained prizes for making omelettes, as everybody knows dancing is particularly pleasing before marriage, which it greatly facilitates. And cooking is certainly necessary after marriage, it gives durability to the marriage tie. Feed the average man well and he becomes devoted.

The motto given to the girls of the Jules Ferry Lyceum is when they have won a husband: "Feed him well." While it is rare for a girl to be brought to the city yesterday from a boarding school, a married couple, once married, a comfortable home and a well-cooked omelette have their charm.

Blown by Insane Prisoner.
Goldsbach, N. C., October 25.—Dr. H. L. Joyner, of Jackson, N. C., arrived in the city this afternoon with an insane negro, Ashley Conwell, whom he placed in the colored insane asylum near this city. The sheriff was painfully bitten by the prisoner while taking him from a back that was carrying him to the asylum.

Kicked by a Mule.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Chase City, Va., October 25.—Dr. A. T. Finch, while driving the hind foot of a mule to-day was kicked in the face and painfully injured. A large ugly cut, exposing the right cheek bone for several inches, is the result. He will be confined to his home for some time.

Marriage Licenses.
Licensée to marry was issued yesterday from the clerk's office of the Hustings Court to the following persons: Burrus E. Hensley and Mary A. Bowler; John B. Cook and Ella N. Fletcher; Henry A. Wellhouse and Mary Rosalie Gerring.

Some Potatoes.
A sweet potato weighing twelve and three-quarter pounds was brought to the city yesterday from Cathorn's farm, on the River Road, and exhibited as a curiosity.

BANK DEPOSITS ARE BIGGER THAN EVER

Thirteen Banks Report Increase of $2,100,800.56 Since Last Statement.

HAVE ENORMOUS RESERVES

Sworn Statements Disprove Reports of Withdrawals and Hoarding of Currency.

Deposits in Richmond banks since the last government call for a statement on August 3 have increased more than $2,000,000. Five banks have not yet published their statements in accordance with the call issued on Friday, but the thirteen banking houses, including all of the national banks in the city, which have up to this time published their statements, show that on August 9 their total of individual deposits subject to check was $23,400,057.71. On October 21, these same thirteen banks reported a total of $30,107,888.27. In individual deposits subject to checks, an increase of $2,100,800.56. Bumper crops with high prices, especially in the tobacco section, and the high standing of the larger Richmond banks with out-of-town depositors are given as the chief reasons for the increase.

No Evidence of Withdrawals.
An analysis of the sworn figures in the statements already published will afford a complete answer to those who feared that suspension of payment on the part of the Commonwealth Bank on August 29 would result in withdrawals from other banks and the hoarding of money. The figures show that on the contrary individual depositors have placed in the banks since that date more than $2,000,000.

One of the notable features of the statements, which in the main are regarded as very satisfactory, is the enormous amount the Richmond banks have on deposit with approved reserve agents. One bank has besides the cash in its vaults, $1,690,000 subject to its immediate call on deposit with approved reserve agents. Eight certificates of the total amount of loans and discounts are indicated in a number of the statements as compared with those of August 9, nearly all of the banks taking the precaution of accumulating cash in the event of sudden demand.

Large Sums Available.
As a result, most of the banks now have on hand or subject to their immediate call very large sums over and above their legal reserves, and which are available for commercial loans. The period of comparative inactivity in the clearing-house banks in the matter of immediately available assets, and those who have critically studied the statements made as of October 21 are of the belief that the time has about come when the banks will be putting some of this reserve to work, by making it earn interest on ordinary business loans, a step which would of itself give a decided impetus to fall and winter business.

President Proclaims Doctrine That Will Be Reflected in Mexican Announcement.

Swarthmore, Pa., October 25.—President Wilson in a speech here to-day proclaimed the doctrine that the whole of the Western Hemisphere should be devoted to one sacred purpose—that nowhere can any government endure which is stained by blood or supported by anything but the consent of the governed.

It was extolling the spirit with which William Penn sought to establish a free Commonwealth in America that the President revived this doctrine. His utterances, it is known, reflect the ideas which the Washington administration is preparing to announce to the nations of the world in a formal note on the policy of the United States toward Mexico.

The President spoke in a big tent not far from the spot where William Penn landed, the exercises being commemorative of the Founders' Day at Swarthmore College.

"I would not be interested," said the President, "in encouraging the memory of William Penn if his conquest had been merely a material one. Something we have been taught at for centuries, the size of the American continent, the size of our own domain as a nation; for they have, naturally, suggested that we did not need one. But I claim that every race and every man is as big as the thing he takes possession of."

He said that the size of the American continent, the size of our own domain as a nation; for they have, naturally, suggested that we did not need one. But I claim that every race and every man is as big as the thing he takes possession of."

It is the professed purpose of the conquest which was to see to it that every foot of that land should be the possession of the consent of the governed. I do not mean to say that all this hemisphere is devoted to the same sacred purpose and that nowhere can any government endure which is stained by blood or supported by anything but the consent of the governed.

"And the spirit of Penn will not be stayed. It is no small matter for a college to have as its Patron Saint a man who went out upon such a conquest. How many of you young people have devoted yourselves to the like adventure? Do you not feel that you will never get it by serving yourself? Do you covet distinction? You will get it only as the servant of mankind. You are not here merely to prepare to make a living. You are here to enrich the world, and you impoverish yourself if you forget the errand."

There also was a reference to international affairs in a preceding speech by Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, an alumnus of the Quaker College, who induced the President to visit Swarthmore.

"From Penn's successes," he said, "may we not learn to be assured that free government may exist and extend with liberty of conscience and an equal share of political freedom for every man upon this continent while we live in a free and just society?"
